

Program Committee Evaluations

Please assign two marks to each one of the other members in your Program Committee. The first mark is an evaluation of how well they did with the task of reporting on the papers that they were assigned as readers. The second mark is an overall evaluation of their participation in the program committee. Keep in mind that the person that speaks frequently is not necessarily the best contributor to the PC. What you should be looking to reward are insightful remarks that help the PC discern the strengths and weaknesses of the different papers. Each of the marks that you assign should be between 0 and 10. 0 would be for someone that makes no contribution to the completion of the PC task, and 10 would be for someone that demonstrates that she/he has read the papers, reviews, and rebuttals carefully and provides insightful analysis that helps the PC with its task. Put "X" in the grades for your own name. If someone does not show up leave their spaces blank.
